McDade To Launch Campaign For 1948 Red Cross Funds; 100 Citizens to Make Canvass

On Tuesday morning March 16, Maxwell McDade chairman of this year's local Red Cross campaign will "kick-off" the 1948 drive for funds. With a quota of $1320, a twenty per cent increase over last year's figure, more than 100 citizens will make a house to house canvass for funds in the hope of getting the quota filled in the first day's work.

The quota this year is $200 more than it was last year; however the fund committee exceeded that quota.

Working with Mr. McDade on a fund planning committee are: Ernest Fall, Jr., Joe Davis, Foad Homra, Louis Weaks and Leon Browder.

The Red Cross is an old story... a good old story. It is not necessary to go into the many lives it has saved, the suffering it has relieved, the good it has done.

The most destructive series of major disasters in history struck the United States during 1947 according to the American Red Cross, which allocated upwards of $10,000,000 to assist more than 300,000 persons. In terms of costs, 1947 was the peak year in Red Cross disaster work for the last decade.

Disasters, which struck 46 states and Alaska, included 142 fires, 50 floods, 41 tornadoes, 3 hurricanes, 22 other storms, 31 explosions, minor earthquakes, transportation wrecks and other serious accidents.

Grimmest toll in casualties and property losses, and highest Red Cross relief expenditures occurred after five major disasters:

The worst tornadoes in 10 years in Texas and Oklahoma last April; The Texas City explosions and fire in mid-April, claiming 500 lives and inflicting more than 3,500 injuries;

June floods in seven midwestern and easter states;

The severe Florida-Gulf States hurricane in September, followed by prolonged floods;

The devastating New England forest fires in October.

Red Cross records show 1,266 disaster-caused deaths, up to December 1, approximately twice the toll in 1946. Persons injured numbered 7,969.

More than 81,000 buildings—mostly homes—were destroyed or damaged and hundreds of thousands of acres of productive farmlands were ruined by erosion or rendered useless for the year by long-standing, severe floods.

Woman's Club President

MRS. L. N. GIFFORD IS ELECTED HEAD OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. L. N. Gifford, a prominent cultural and civic leader of Fulton was elected president of the Woman's Club last Friday at the regular monthly meeting.

The new president is an experienced clubwoman, having held a position on the executive board of the club and chairman of various other committees. She has also done outstanding work in the Parent-Teacher organization.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Maxwell McDade, first vice-president; Mrs. T. K. Russell, second vice-president; Mrs. M. W. Haws, third vice-president; Mrs. Walter Voelgel, fourth vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Burrow, recording secretary; Mrs. J. C. Scruggs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wilmon Boyd, librarian and Mrs. Robert Graham, library chairman.

Mrs. W. L. Durbin, district governor of the first district Woman's Club gave a report of the mid-winter state board meeting and quoted from the official report of that meeting.

The Music Department of the club, with Mrs. Glynn Bushart as program chairman for the day, gave an excellent musical program as follows:

Two solos, "Care Selve" Handel, "The Morning Wind," Gena Barnes-com, Mrs. Winfred Whitel, accompanied by Mrs. Steve Wiley.

Two piano solos, "Lieberstraume," Franz Liszt, "Valse Brillante," Man-na Zucca, by Mrs. Paul Hayes.

Two violin solos "The Swan," C. Saint Saens, "Morris Dance," Edward German by Mrs. David Sundrick, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Bushart.

Trio, Mrs. Winfred Whitel, Miss Nell Warren, Mrs. Hugh Pigue, "On the Wings of Song," Mendelssohn, "La Seante," Tosti, accompanied by Mrs. M. H. Haws.

Mrs. C. L. Maddox and Mrs. Steve Wiley played a piano duet, "The Valse" Arensky.

Refreshments were served to the nearly 100 members who attended.

Corn Meeting Held

A meeting was held last night by the Corn Show committee of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce. Chairman A. C. Butts and his group are making plans for a big event this fall, and are hard at work getting entries in now. Interested farmers are invited to get in touch with Mr. Butts.

JOSEPH WILLIAMS TURNS IN STELLAR PERFORMANCE HERE

Fulton Tenor Gives Home Folks Rare Time

No event recently has been as eagerly anticipated in musical as was the event on Monday night, when Joseph Brent Williams, of this city came home, laden with laurels, to present a concert to his home folks. The Woman's Club was filled to capacity to hear Mr. Williams sing some twenty programmed numbers, and two encores, to the more than 400 persons privileged to hear him.

With the delightful compositions of such great artists as Haydn, Brahms, Debussy, Wagner and others, Mr. Williams' soaring tenor was exceptional, even golden; he had a fine way of hanging on to his top notes to the great enjoyment of his audience.

He gave his Fulton friends a tantalizing sample of the songs he sang at Carnegie Hall, the songs he loves the most and probably does the best. Several of his numbers were in German and French, but the singer graciously translated the words and meaning before singing them. His enunciation of the difficult foreign words was perfect.

It was an exciting performance for Mr. Williams. Fresh from a successful appearance at Carnegie Hall and with the prospect of an early appearance at Town Hall in New York, he gave a stellar rendition of difficult arias to the people that he wants to please the most.

If the enthusiasm and interest of local school patrons could pay the salaries of local teachers, they would be the highest paid in the United States, for in a meeting held at the Fulton High School on Wednesday night approximately fifteen citizens sat around the meeting table and exploited every possibility to add dollars and cents to the monthly checks of Fulton's teaching profession.

Much has happened this week on the school scene and as result of a meeting held at the school on Wednesday night a glimmer of hope may be in the offing.

The situation as it stands today is as follows:

At the Dad's Night dinner of the Parent-Teacher Association held at the school on Tuesday two committees were appointed by Mrs. Leo Greengrass, president of the West Fulton P-TA to work with State and County officials to enact legislation or measures to bring more school revenue into the district, and subsequently into the city.

The committees are: Charles Gregory, Bob White and Ernest Fall, Jr., to work on the State level and Leon Browder, Wm. McDade and Louis Weaks to work on the district level.

As the News went to press today (Thursday) the State committee was busy at work contacting State officials to determine if there is a bill in existence that would permit fourth class cities, like Fulton, to make its own assessments and collect its own school taxes. If such a bill exists, mechanics will be put in motion to get the bill passed through the General Assembly before it closes its books for new bills. The books close on Saturday, March 13.

On Tuesday, following the band concert by Jewell Harrison, W. L. Holland, superintendent of the local schools addressed the most representative group of Fultonians that has gathered here in recent months. On Tuesday night Mr. Holland prefaced his talk with striking remarks when he said:

"Usually a speaker has to have a joke or two to tell when he makes a speech. The joke I will tell you is one that occurs every time I try to hire a teacher. I tell them what the salary is and then they start laughing. The joke is on me."

In excellent delivery he told of the hazards and obstacles facing education in Kentucky today and likened the local predicament to a grocery situation existing in Fulton and its neighboring city across the street, South Fulton. He cited the case of Tom Boaz who operates a grocery in Fulton and Fred Robinson who operates a similar business in South Fulton. He said:

"When each of these men go out to buy merchandise they must have the same amount of purchasing power, dollar-wise, to purchase commodities to sell their customers at a profit. It is the same way with me," he said, "when I try to go out and hire efficient teachers in competition with our neighbor across the way. I must have the same amount of purchasing power as they do if I am to get the same kind of teachers."

He revealed that the salaries in the South Fulton school are from $35 to $52 a month higher than for the comparable position in Fulton. The fear that the Fulton school would be dropped from the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges has been allayed when a recent increase in teacher's salaries, approximating $13.09 a month brought the standards up to the requirements of that organization.

Mr. Holland traced education in Kentucky from its inception in 1775 to the current day. The first known steps in schooling this state were taken by a Mr. Rice, who founded Transylvania College. Mrs. J. J. Owens of this city is a direct descendant of that early educator.

He said that a part of the present school system was established in 1922 at a cost of $65,000.00. Later the gym was added at a cost of $38,000.00 and more recently Carr Institute at a cost of approximately $153,000.00. At the present rate of retirement the local school will not be free of debt until 1961, Mr. Holland said.

Bringing his talk closer home, the speaker told of the facts existing in fourth class cities regarding school taxation. Fulton is a fourth class city. A city of this description is not empowered to tax any local property for school funds; the State is portioned out in school districts and any funds given to schools in an area, must be given to the entire district. He did say however that "something should be done about the loose way that we go about tax evaluation." It was a known fact he said, that there is a great deal of property in Fulton that is loosely taxed or not taxed at all.

It was further revealed that the long existing discrepancies in the tax evaluation of property in the lower end of the county is not commensurate with the values of property here. While an increase in the property tax values in Fulton alone, or in the lower end of the county alone, would not add sufficient revenue to mean anything, the combined increase in tax evaluation may make an appreciable difference, it was noted.

The Fulton school debt is financed by a building bond, and recently the issue was refinanced at a lower rate of interest effecting a saving of some $1100 to the local school board, the News learned.

Letters to the Editors

Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul Westpheling The Fulton County News, Fulton, Kentucky.

Dear Friends:

I want to congratulate you on the splendid editorial appearing on the front page of your recent issue.

I think this was a well deserved tribute to a great humanitarian. I have never read a more beautiful tribute and every word of it was deserved.

Know Your Neighbor--Who is Mr. Fulton?

Here's something new, radio listeners, and newspaper readers of Fulton and surrounding territory. Here's a chance to win dozens of wonderful prizes and give you an opportunity to test your skill at solving a mystery.

The Illinois Central Service Club, not content that the Walking Man has been identified, is going to carry on the interest of guessing a well known personality, but this time they are going to bring the mystery closer home. The mystery will be carried over Station WNGO by remote control to the studio at Jack Foy's Tourist Court.

What is the mystery? The mystery is "who is Mr. Fulton?"

The contest operates similar to the national walking man contest, but instead of having a well known national figure, they have selected a man who resides in Fulton.

In a few minutes we will give you a clue or two, and even a jingle to get you started in the fun of testing your skill to see how well you know your neighbors. But first a little about the contest.

The mystery is designed to raise funds for the Illinois Central Service Club's building fund. The members want to purchase a clubhouse and the project deserves a pat on the back. They are appealing to their friends in Fulton to help them buy a building here so that they may have a place of their own to hold meetings and other functions. Here is what you do:

Write a letter of not more than 25 words that says, "I am donating to the I. C. Service Club's building fund because..." The letter need not be composed by expert writers, just tell in simple words why you are donating to the Illinois Central Service Club to help their worthy cause.

Print your name, address and phone number on the letter, but do NOT send in the person you think is Mr. Fulton.

On Monday afternoon, March 15th on this program, the writer of the first best letter selected by the judges, composed of three prominent Fultonians, will be called and asked, "Who is Mr. Fulton?" Only one person will be called each week. In the event Mr. Fulton is not identified by the person called, an additional clue will be given at that time. The following Monday another person who has written the best letter selected that week by the judges will be called. The mystery will be continued until Mr. Fulton has been identified.

As always the merchants of Fulton are cooperating to make the Illinois Central Service Club project a success. Already donated to the club from the Love Beauty Shop for the lady in the family of the person identifying Mr. Fulton; a box of printed personal stationery and a one-year's subscription to the paper by the Fulton County News; a Sportsman's shaving set from Ford Clothing Co. for the man in the family of the person identifying Mr. Fulton; two delicious chicken dinners with all the trimmings from the Snack Shop in Union City; a suit and dress dry cleaned by Quality Cleaners; a bottle of fine toilet water from Bennett Drug Co.; an oil change and a grease job from Dallas Produce Co.; one box of cut roses from Killebrew's Florist shop; a table lamp from Graham Furniture Co.; a delicious $2.00 beef roast from Butts Grocery; $7.50 leather utility kit from Evans Drug Co.; $5.00 worth of cosmetics, Owl

Drug Co.; a two pound box of Hollingsworth Candy from City Drug Co. Any other merchants desiring to donate additional items to the Mr. Fulton mystery are invited to do so.

Goodwin Service Station, 10 gallons of gas; Mrs. F. W. Madding, Better Brush representative, $15.50 carving set; Sawyer's Grocery, one frozen hen; Dr. Wells Bottling Co., one case of Dr. Wells beverage; DeMyer Grocery, $1.50 beef roast; Kentucky Hardware and Implement Co., one glass coffee maker; R. M. Kirkland Jewelry Shop, one fountain pen; Legg Barber Shop, one bottle hair tonic.

Everybody within listening distance of this radio is eligible to enter the contest except the judges and members of their families; the staff of the Fulton County News and members of their families; the staff of WNGO and Jack Foy's Tourist Court and their families; the officers of the Illinois Central Service Club and their families.

Get in the fun. Write that letter to the Illinois Central Service Club care of Jack Foy, Fulton, Ky. Enclose a donation. The size doesn't matter, and will have no bearing (Continued on page 12)

ANOTHER 'WALKING-MAN' THRILLER ON AIR; FUND FOR SUPPORT OF KENTUCKY CHILDREN

Cash and merchandise prizes amounting to $10,000 are offered on the "Head of The Family" radio program, heard over WHAS, Wednesday evenings at 8:30. The contest, "Who is K?" is featured in the fund-raising campaign for Kentucky Children, Inc. Clues are given on the program that lead to the identity of "K." This was announced from headquarters of Kentucky Children, Inc., after the premiere performance of the show, broadcast from the National Theater, Louisville, Wednesday, February 25.

"K" is, or maybe was, a nationally known resident of Kentucky. "K" might be a governor. "K" might be a famous author or editor. "K" might be a judge or even a former president. "K" might be dead or alive, according to the radio announcement.

To be eligible for the "K" prize, entrants are given the following rules: "Complete this sentence in 25 words or less: 'Everyone should contribute to Kentucky Children, Inc., because . . .'" Mail your contribution and entry to Kentucky Children, Inc., WHAS, Louisville, Ky. Be sure your name, address and telephone number are written plainly in the upper right hand corner on the same page on which your entry is written. Kentucky Children, Inc., has selected well-known citizens to act as judges. These judges will select the first, second and third best entries each week. Persons submitting the three best entries will be called by telephone, in order, and given a chance to identify "K." Entrants must answer their telephone when called during the broadcast each Wednesday, 8:30-9:00 p. m. The first person to properly identify "K" will win the grand "K" prize.

Following is the list of prizes currently offered on the "K" Prize by Kentucky merchants, manufacturers, and business people:

Ladies $350 fur coat, 10 Rusco all-metal combination screen and storm windows, one Karpen living-room suite, one registered $500 Guernsey bull, Kenmore deluxe electric range, seven foot 1948 Frigidaire, two Handmacker ladies' suite, roofing for a house, reservations for two persons for five days at Miami Beach, Florida, at the McFadden-Deauville Hotel; leather chair, complete ladies' Easter ensemble, paint for outside of house, living room rug, Washington Dinetto group, Spartan radio-phonograph combination, man's suit, topcoat and a student suit, lounge chair and matching ottoman, 12 shirts and 12 ties, lingerie for mother and daughter.

Paul Revere silver bowl, custom permanent and filled cosmetic travel case, shoes for the entire family, International Harvester Home Freezer, two matched cases for ladies, Graves candy for the family for one year, a box a week, cut flowers for the house each month for a year, co-ordinated fashions to complete a lady's spring ensemble pair of full fox furs, $250, a low-boy fan and a Northington fan, life-time aluminum ware set.

Additional clues to identify the mysterious "K" in the $10,000 cash and merchandise prize contest sponsored for Kentucky Children, Inc., were given last night on "Head of the Family" radio program broadcast over WHAS, Louisville, Ky. They are: "Last comes a favor . . . But first, there's a fee . . . Kentucky's the place . . . Where 'K' made his plea."

VETS TO GET MORE ALLOWANCE MAY 1 UNDER NEW RULING

Increased subsistence allowances for student veterans taking full-time educational courses will be reflected in checks payable on or shortly after May 1, Veterans Administration emphasized today.

The new payments, affecting veterans enrolled under the G. I. Bill and also disabled veterans studying under Public Law 16, will be at a monthly rate of $75 for a veteran without dependents, $105 for a veteran with one dependent, and $120 for a veteran with more than one dependent.

The old rates of $65 monthly for single veterans and $90 for those with dependents still apply for on-job trainees and part-time student veterans.

The higher rates become effective April 1 and will be payable at the end of the month. Single veterans and those with one dependent need not apply for the increased payments, as VA records contain sufficient information to make the adjustments. However, veterans entitled to $120 because they have more than one dependent will be required to submit proof of dependency. If this proof is furnished prior to July 1, they will receive retroactive payments at the new rates back to April 1.

U. K. STUDENTS OPPOSE POET LAUREATE CHANGE

The University of Kentucky Student Government Association has gone on record as opposing a resolution, now pending in the General Assembly, to declare vacant the honorary literary post of Poet Laureate of Kentucky. The resolution would name Dr. Jesse Stuart, Greenup county poet and novelist, as successor to Dr. James T. (Cotton) Noe, professor emeritus of the University and well-known poet who has held the position since 1928. Although living in California for his health, Dr. Noe is "still a Kentuckian in mind and spirit," U. K. students said.

HEARTS and FLOWERS

By PATRICIA LATANE

Miss Latane:

I am a girl 28 years old and am lonely. I would like for you to tell me if you think I will marry this year. I do not go with any one regular. I have a few good friends but they don't seem to be interested in love. I am good cook, have a job, can sew, and do house work. What do you think there is for me?

J.D.C.

My dear J.D.C.

My girl, from your handwriting it looks as if you have had several chances for marriage and according to your writing you should have been married once and maybe twice. I think there will be three trips to the altar for you and the third one will be a very happy marriage with two children blessing your home. If you work hard and live a good Christian life your third marriage will take place the latter part of this year or the early part of 1949. You will meet this man while vacationing. If you are lonely and want something to do think of something that you heard someone say was impossible and set your mind to do it. This will give you something to do.

My Dear Miss Latane,

I am a man 58 years old and have been talking to a lady who works next to me. We have had dinner together several times and have gone to the movies. We both like the same things and she seems to enjoy my company as I do hers. She is 42 years old and I would like very much to ask her to marry me. What do you think?

V.A.

Dear V.A.:

I would advise marriage now if you intend to marry. You will never know until you ask her if she will accept or not. If you are afraid your asking this would break up a beautiful friendship hint around and see how she feels about marriage first. Then if you think she feels the same as you do, ask her. As for my advise, I would say ask her and don't wait any longer.

Dear Miss Latane:

I am a man 31 years old and I am going with a girl I think a lot of. I wonder if I will marry this year. I am a sportsman, I have a good job and can support her well.

R.H.

My Dear R.H.:

Your handwriting indicates that perhaps you have already been married. The writing does not reveal much about the girl you are presently going with, but it does show that you meet a girl and married her in 1940. Events with the present girl may not turn out well and I believe that if you could get together with your former spouse you will be much happier.

There's a lazy line in your handwriting. Get out of this. That's a vicious habit. Take my advice and look up your exwife. Your handwriting is very confusing and indicates many things. One of which is the fact that marriage would settle your problems. Before you do anything drastic, look up your 1940 love.

History of Palestine Church From 1834 to Present Time
January 6, 1936

There was no house of worship in this community when Austin and David Browder came in 1825, and very few people, the land was mostly in woods. Each built a pole cabin for home, some two miles apart, and it was in David Browder's cabin home that the first Methodist traveling preacher found lodging and a place to hold services.

David was not a christian at that time, but in 1834 attended a meeting at Oliver's Camp Ground and found Christ. In the same year the first church was organized by David and Mary Browder, Austin and Arena Browder, James, Ellen and Parthena (Weatherspoon) Craig, Burrell and Polly Phillips and Enoch Baker. This under the administration of George W. Harris, Presiding Elder, Wiley B. Edwards and Thomas Boswell, preachers in charge, grew and prospered. Elder Harris named this church Palestine.

It was built of poles, chinked with mud. The building was small, the floor was mother earth, the seats were split log, and was warmed by a large fireplace, the chimney was made of sticks and dab. On the first of July 1835, Burrell and Polly Phillips deeded two and one-half acres of land on which this house stood, for the consideration of $1.00 for a church ground. The trustees of this church were, David Browder, Enoch Baker and Burrell Phillips.

A few years after having services, the sticks in the chimney caught on fire, thus destroying the first church. It stood a little to the west of the present house, and until a few years ago, the mound of dirt left from the chimney could be found.

A new and better house followed. It was made of hewed logs, with a puncheon floor, the front pews had backs to them, the ones in the back, split log. It was warmed by a long wood burning stove. Some to preach there were, Brother Frost, Brother Enoch Baker, and the blind preacher, Brother Platt. Can we not see them as they enter, go to the pulpit, there kneel and ask God for a message. Many times they had come far on horseback with their Bibles in their saddlepocket. And judging from the shouts of joy, they must have received a real message. One of the song leader's at that time was Amos Fields. The preacher would give out some two lines, then most every one sang. Most times there were but one or two song books. Another that was their custom, was straw in the altar, and many who found Christ in the straw-filled altar held a life-time membership in this church, and now rest on yonder hill.

Soon after the Civil War, this house was moved by Alphaus Browder, to his farm on the State Line Road, and a frame house followed, much larger, and better in

Prune Coffee Cake

For an energy pick-up, quick and nutritious, serve this excellent prune cake with mugs of milk.

Hot breads are an appetizing invitation to "come and get it" especially when winter storms are blowing outside. This year's good supplies of dried fruits make them a good item to team with enriched flour's thrifty protein, iron and B-vitamins for nourishing, flavorful coffee cakes.

A versatile bread, indeed, is this prune coffee cake with its attractive crumble topping. Serve it for breakfast, of course — but also for luncheon with a Lenten salad plate of diced fruits and cheese, and when friends drop in for "a snack".

If you dip your scissors in water before cutting the prunes, the fruit will be less likely to stick to the blades. You will also find it a good idea to "dust" the chopped fruit with part of the sifted dry ingredients to keep the fruit from sticking together.

PRUNE COFFEE CAKE

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry granular	1 cup chopped cooked prunes
1 cup lukewarm water	3/4 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 cup melted shortening	1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup sugar	1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons salt	1/2 cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon	1/2 cup margarine or butter
2 eggs, beaten	1/2 teaspoon salt

Soften yeast in 1/4 cup lukewarm water. To remaining water add shortening, sugar, salt, and cinnamon. Cool to lukewarm. Add two cups flour. Mix well. Add eggs and softened yeast. Beat thoroughly. Add prunes and mix well. Add remaining flour. Mix well. Pour into greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place (80 degrees to 85 degrees F.) until light and puffy (about two hours). Stir down and pour into greased pans nine inches in diameter. Sprinkle with topping mixture made by mixing sugars, salt, and flour and cutting in margarine or butter. Let rise until doubled (about two hours). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: Two coffee cakes, nine inches in diameter.

MRS. FRANK STROUD

Are you a good Samaritan? If so tell the young men you know about the wonderful opportunities open to them in the US Army or US Air Force.

Pilot training under the US Air Force Aviation Cadet program is for men with the urge to fly. See your local recruiting Sergeant for full details.

Never before has there been a greater opportunity for the young man to write his own ticket in the Army. The broad freedom of choice offered today will have a very strong appeal to most of the potential recruits you talk to. Tell them about it and urge them to get full details at the local Recruiting Office 428 Lake St. Fulton.

There is . . . nothing that keeps the heart young like sympathy, like giving oneself with enthusiasm to some worthy thing or cause.—Anonymous.

The Story Goes Round and Round . . .

It was a pity more people were not at the High School auditorium on Tuesday night. There was a goodly crowd all right, but we would like to have seen them hanging from the rafters, for the talk made there by W. L. Holland, superintendent of local schools, was one of the best we have heard since we came to Fulton, and mind you, we have heard an awful lot of speeches.

Perhaps the talk was so good because he had a good subject . . . or is discussion of poor pay for school teachers a good subject . . .

You could hear a pin drop during his entire talk. Even those fine young boys on the front rows made not a move, because they wanted to hear and perhaps to learn what Supt. Holland had to say about their future learning . . . which from our point of view has the dreariest future of any project in the entire State.

Mr. Holland traced local education from its inception in the latter part of the last century to the current day.

Education in Kentucky is in a state of abomination. Any way you look at it, we think there has been little progress from the days of the barefeet and the coon skin cap. Pending in the legislature are three bills that would tend to alleviate the situation, and they have as much chance of becoming law as the proverbial snowball. Any legislation enacted state-wide would help little to make the situation brighter; the only alternative would be to rectify the conditions from the district's standpoint. That would mean concerted action by leaders in Fulton County, but from a post-meeting discussion with such fine folks as Ward Johnson, Bill Browning, Coach Goranflo and Jack Carter, we were told that efforts have been made in the past to bring county leaders together to re-evaluate county property to bring additional revenue into district funds for education. But there were not enough horseshoes around to make the efforts become a reality.

What's wrong with folks, anyway. How can the other 46 or 47 other States in the Union get their problems ironed out? Why can't we?

Governor Clements said in pre-election speeches that he would do everything he could to help education. That everything is mighty little as far as we can see.

Sometimes we think that maybe we have been cursed with too much enthusiasm to get things done, but on the other hand we think that other people are afflicted with the darndest disease of malignant, pernicious, insipient anemia of thought.

Would it be beyond the realms of possibility for such fine men as Charles Gregory, Bob White, Ernest Fall, Jr., Leon Browder, Wm. McDade and Louis Weeks to get together with other State-leaders of the same outstanding calibre and go to Governor Clements and say:

"Look here, Mr. Clements, if you are proud to be the governor of a State that has the lowest scholastic standards of any State in the Union, then we are not. It is vital to us that we have school teachers that rank with the best in the nation and to do that we must pay them a living wage. If it takes a sales tax, a soft drink tax, a pari-mutuel tax, or a cigarette tax, let's get it done."

Why is it necessary to always consider the vicious political ramifications of an issue? The vote . . . the vote . . . the vote . . . from the highest and the mightiest . . . to the lowest and the foulest . . . its always the vote . . . the vote . . . the vote.

The Democratic Way of Life

Senator Irving N. Ives of New York made a corking good address before the New York Press Association in Syracuse this month and he specialized on the importance of the local daily and weekly newspapers outside the metropolitan district. In a broad way you can define them as a "great bulwark of our Democratic way of life." He referred to what is being generally called "small business," and linked "the small town newspaper with other forms of small business in this age of big business," and he went on to show that the local newspapers not only stood up under the keenest sort of competition from the big metropolitan dailies, but that these local papers are backed with management and personnel who have plenty of ability to carry on and serve, and succeed, "because its role in the grass roots of our National life is indispensable."

Senator Ives said the influence of weekly newspapers "can be appreciated" when it is considered that "there are 2,003 daily papers published in our country and almost 10,000 weekly papers, including 543 in New York State."

"You, who publish small-town papers make the people of a community conscious of their common interests and responsibilities and objectives," he said.

Ives said the reporting of sicknesses, births, marriages, deaths, church and school happenings, society news and weekly personal doings "teems with personal interest, depicts real American life."

Viz., e.g., et al . . .

Ask any lawyer, doctor or scientist and he will tell you that the original practice of mediaeval times of keeping works of learning in Latin has filled his terminology with latin phrases and symbols to this good day.

Viz., e. g., i. e., ibid and cit. are common abbreviations which we have often seen in common usage ourselves, and the other day we ran across the translation of them, which we pass on:

Viz., comes from videlicet and means "namely."
e. g., comes from exempli gratia, and means "for example."

i. e., comes from quod vive, and means "which see."
i. e., comes from id est, and means "that is."
ibid., comes from bidem, and means "in the same place."

cit., comes from cited, and means "citation."

They Won't Vote Against It

The City Council does not meet again for a few weeks at which time the members may or may not discuss the issue of TVA power for the city.

In the event there may be confusion in the minds of our readers we want to make it clear that the City Council did not vote against TVA, per se, but against an ordinance authorizing the council to open negotiations for acquisition of a local distributing plant. It is the consensus of the great majority of Fulton's population that when the proper time arrives to actually vote on whether the city shall or shall not have TVA power that the City Council will not vote against it. The present City Council did not vote against it . . . no City Council ever has . . . no City Council ever will.

If TVA is the right thing for Fulton to have it will come, don't ever think it won't.

About Farming From Washington

Long Range Program

Top farm news items of last week here was Secretary of Agriculture Anderson's appeal to the chairmen of the agriculture committees of both Houses of Congress for action on a long range farm program now. On the same day, he addressed Minnesota PMA committeemen. "Stop-gap legislation merely to extend present price supports may seem expedient, but it is not adequate," he said in St. Paul. "Both major parties should commit themselves firmly through the votes of members of Congress, thereby confronting the voters with records rather than promises." Farm Bureau has recommended simple extension of present supports for another year to permit time for appraisal of the effects of European developments under the European Recovery Program before working out a permanent farm plan. After the Secretary's appeal, however, AFBF President Allen Kline said that Farm Bureau is ready now with definite recommendations on most issues, and hopes to be ready to testify on all soon after the AFBF Board meeting March 17-19.

Parity and Supports
On price supports and parity, Anderson said: "I favor the continuance of price supports based on parity, with parity modernized to reflect new price relationships among the various commodities. I favor a more flexible system of supports than we have, so that we will not automatically freeze the production pattern."

The Secretary did not name the support level he favors, but he did say: "I am inclined to think that any minimum support levels which are legally mandatory should be lower than the present 90 per cent of parity minimums, but much higher than the 52 per cent provided in the Triple A Act of 1938."

Coordination Bills
This week, President Allen Kline of the American Farm Bureau Federation along with H. L. Wingate of Georgia, Walter Hammond of Texas, R. E. Slusher of Missouri, Howard Hill of Iowa and possibly Ransom Aldrich of Mississippi and Warren Hawley of New York, will testify before the House Committee on Agriculture on the Farm Bureau-backed Cooley-Hill bills for the coordination of agricultural agencies under the Extension Service. The basic issue is whether or not federal agencies are to operate direct from Washington to the farmer, or through a local agency in this

by Grace Noll Crowell

FAITH takes on the look of silver things:
A shimmering path at night across the sea,
The points of stars, the silver tips of wings,
The white, still luminosity
Of gabled rooftops when the moon shines down
The streets of any town.

Faith is a silvered brightness in the soul:
A shaft set there to point the way to heaven,
And carved upon it is a lettered scroll,
Its words miraculously given
To guide the traveler on his shining way
Upon the road today.

God help me keep my faith undimmed by tears,
And uncorroded by the rust of years.

case, the Extension Service.

Fear of Recession

There is plenty of evidence of fear of a decline in business activity. Bankers everywhere are warning against too much expansion of credit. In the stock market, most shares are selling at prices that are low in relation to profits in 1947 reflecting lack of confidence in future dividends. In manufacturing circles, one hears a lot about the "break-even point." This is the level of production at which a business can begin to make a profit.

In the old days, that level was low enough so that most firms could take a considerable drop in sales without actually going into the red. Now, costs are so high that many enterprises must operate at close to capacity, to be on safe ground. Therefore, it is argued, a relatively slight recession could be much more serious than in the old days. Like riding a bicycle that must move fast to remain upright.

Income, Taxes, Savings

The Department of Commerce last week reported that U. S. citizens in 1947 spent twenty billions more than in 1946, but that the extra money bought very little more in goods and services. Prices were higher.

WHAT-NO CURLS? WOMAN ASSAILS HOME BEAUTY BILL

A bill now before the Kentucky legislature, to prohibit the sale of home beauty aids, is the type of class legislation that slaps at our ideals of democracy, Mrs. Ruth Gilbert, Secretary of the Kentucky Retail Merchants, said today.

It works a hardship on the women in the rural areas where professional beauty shops are not easily accessible, and on women whose incomes do not provide for professional beauty shop services, Mrs. Gilbert pointed out.

"From an economic angle it will take away thousands of dollars of trade volume from Kentucky merchants and put it in the hands of mail order operators outside the state. The bill may be directed at the big city drug stores, but many small merchants all over the state will feel the financial effects of this bill if it should pass," concurred Mrs. Gilbert.

Mrs. Gilbert's remarks were directed at H.B.248 which was introduced into the legislature by Representative Walter Coleman of Louisville. The bill would prohibit the sale or advertisement for sale of any device or material to be used for the purpose of applying a permanent wave by the purchased in her own home or by other than a qualified beauty specialist.

The bill has the support of the beauticians organizations. A similar bill was passed in Florida recently and is reported to be headed for a court battle.

'NATURE'S PERFECT FOOD' CONTAINS 66 KNOWN NUTRIENTS

Something new has been added, in the promotion of milk as nature's most nearly perfect food.

Paul Gibson, the well-known commentator on CBS, has a dairy show, for a Chicago distributor. He wanted to know what milk actually contained so he could advise his radio public (in five mid-western states).

The department of nutrition services of the National Dairy Council provided him with the answer. Believe it or not, milk contains 66 known nutrients. There are probably more, such as the X factor which will have to be catalogued later.

The 66 known nutrients include 11 essential amino acids, 1 carbohydrate, 17 fatty acids, 21 minerals, and 16 vitamins—a whole laboratory full of food, and it's good drinking.

Mr. Williams and Mr. Lurwick Are Honorees At Several Informal Parties During Visit

Miss Mayme Bennett and Mrs. Hazel Scruggs were the gracious hostesses to an informal reception at their home on Monday night following the Joseph Williams concert at the Woman's Club to have the close friends and sponsors of the recital meet Mr. Williams and his accompanist Mr. Galen Lurwick.

The lovely Bennett home on Carr street was handsomely decorated with a profusion of early spring blossoms placed around the rooms.

The guests were greeted by Miss Bennett and Mrs. Scruggs and were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Joe Bennett, Jr., Mrs. Hendon Wright, Mrs. M. W. Haws and Miss Martha Smith.

From a strikingly decorated table, in the dining-room overlaid with an imported lace cloth, the guests were served punch and hors d'oeuvres by Mrs. Ann Hornbeak, Mrs. Frank Beadles, Mrs. George Doyle. The table held as a centerpiece a huge bowl of early spring flowers.

Out-of-town guests attending the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Critchlow, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Gus White and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans all of Union City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Wells of Dyersburg and Mrs. Everett Ames of Memphis; Mrs. G. J. Willingham and Mrs. E. P. Parsons of Chicago.

During his limited stay here Mr. Williams was entertained at several other informal parties. On Sunday night, the day of his arrival, a family dinner was held at the Bennett home. Guests for the occasion were Mrs. M. W. Haws and Mr. Harry Smith of Tiptonville. On Tuesday afternoon Messrs. Williams and Lurwick and Miss Bennett drove to Tiptonville to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of the city. On Tuesday evening Miss Bennett entertained her friends who had assisted in entertaining Mr. Williams, with an informal buffet supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Page Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Page celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday February 29th with open house at their home east of town.

The house was a scene of beauty with arrangements of colorful cut flowers and pot plants which were gifts of friends and local florists.

Mrs. Page was very attractive in a Spring model of powder blue crepe with a corsage of deep purple iris tied with gold ribbon.

At noon a delicious dinner was served to about 85 relatives and close friends from Detroit, Memphis, Paducah, Mayfield, Murray, Hickman, and Union City.

The dinner was served on the sun porch and seated at the table with the honorees were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lawrence who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Page of Paducah, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Page of Detroit, and an only uncle, John Johnson and his daughter, Miss Mary Johnson both of Mayfield. One son, Julius Page of Detroit, was unable to attend.

During the afternoon 175 friends and neighbors called. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Martin Moon and were asked to register. Mrs. Lola Howard presided at the register. The guests were then invited into the dining room by Mrs. William R. Johnson where punch and cakes were served from a lace draped table centered with a beautiful three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bride groom. Gold candles in crystal holders cast a soft glow over the scene. Assisting Mrs. Joe Page in serving were Mrs. Harve Martin of Paducah and Miss Irene Faris of Hickman.

The guests enjoyed a musical program given by Mrs. Glendall Peaves of Murray, Charles Baugh of Murray and two nieces and nephews of Mr. Page. Mrs. Peaves is a talented musician and plays both the piano and mirimba.

Mr. and Mrs. Page received many lovely gifts and over a hundred cards. The News wishes them many more happy years together.

Thursday Bridge Club Meets With Mrs. Jones

Mrs. Stanley Jones entertained the Thursday night bridge club at her home on Walnut street.

One guest, Mrs. Joe Treas, was included in the three tables of regular members. At the conclusion of the games Miss Martha Moore received high score prize and Mrs. Morgan Omar, Jr., low.

The hostess served a party plate at the close of the games. Members playing were Mesdames J. L. Jones, Jr., Fred Homra, Morgan Omar, Jr., Clyde Williams, Jr., Clyde Hill, Jr., Misses Moore, Andy DeMyer, Mary Homra, Charlene Martin, Nell Warren and Ann Godfrey.

Betty Bowen Surprised With Party on Birthday

Mrs. F. R. Bowen surprised her daughter, Betty, with a 6 o'clock supper and theater party on her 12th birthday Friday at their home on Central avenue.

A color scheme of white and green was used in the decoration. A delectable supper was served to Betty and her guests before attending the theatre. Favors of small white cellophane bags of candy was given each guest.

Those attending were Betty Sue Schwerdt, Shirley Lee Cornu, Annett Williams, Sylvia Ashby, Janie Sue Vowell, Ann Voegeli, Thelma Carroll Counce, Peggy Adams, Ann and Kay Bowen, and Sue and Diane Palmer.

Myra Ann Moss was an invited guest but was unable to attend.

Mrs. H. Carr Hostess To Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. Herbert Carr was gracious hostess to the Tuesday afternoon bridge club at her home on Second street.

Three guests, Mrs. Ann Whitnel-Hornbeak, Mrs. Harvey Maddox and Mrs. Ben Evans, were included in the two tables of members.

After several progressions of contract Mrs. L. O. Bradford received high score prize for the members and Mrs. Harvey Maddox guest high.

At the close of the games the hostess served a sandwich plate.

Members playing were Mesdames T. M. Franklin, J. E. Fall, Sr., Joe Davis, L. O. Bradford and Clanton Meacham.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Palestine Homemakers will meet, March 19th at the Community Center.

The lesson will be on "Window Treatment."

Hostesses will be Mrs. Harvey Pewitt, Mrs. Leslie Nugent, J. H. Lawrence, Mrs. E. O. Dewese, and Mrs. Lon Brown.

Kathryn Adams as winner. Lunch was served at the noon hour.

Immediately after lunch Mrs. Harvey Bondurant gave the major project "Window Treatment" she certainly did a splendid job in bringing the club this lesson. She also gave the spring lesson on "clothing" with some very good helpful hints.

The club had another auction sale with Mrs. Charles Adams acting as auctioneer. Then Mrs. Adams led the group in singing Lock Lomon and adjourned to meet on April 13 with Mrs. Clem Atwill when we will have our first lesson on "foods."

Mrs. Phillips Hostess To Brush Party Tuesday

Mrs. Charles Phillips was hostess to a Brush Party at her home on 5th street Tuesday evening, March 9.

Mrs. F. W. Maddox, Better Brush Representative in this territory, demonstrated different types of brushes to the guests. She gave vegetable brushes, lipstick tissues, eyebrow brushes and needle threaders to those present. The hostess received a set of paring knives.

Bingo was played during the evening with Mrs. Charles Phillips receiving first prize, Mrs. Robert Howell 2nd prize and Miss Mary Alice Clark 3rd prize.

The hostess served fruit cocktail, cake and coca colas to those present.

John Austin who attends Murray State college spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Austin on Eddings street.

Quiet Grandeur

A discreet look fired with great interest is this ensemble featuring varying shades of a single color, modelled by sultry Jane Greer who co-stars with Robert Mitchum in RKO Radio's "Out Of The Past." The dress has long sleeves, a high neck, and is an excellent basic with a sophisticated silhouette that makes it a flawless ground for jewels and accessories. The tone is a warm garnet all over, including basque belt and fitted jersey wool snood. Shoulder bag, suede gloves and shoes are red brown. Miss Greer's handsome necklace and earrings are in pink gold set with garnets.

Urban Casual

An excellent little cloth dress that you wear and wear and never tire of wearing because its unassuming manner is its greatest fashion asset, its tailored look, its greatest virtue. Above, the delicate beauty of Loretta Young is offset by the polished chic of her dress, adorning her in Samuel Goldwyn's latest hit, "The Bishop's Wife," an RKO radio release in which she co-stars with Cary Grant and David Niven. One-piece, with a two-part look, its skirt is a slim navy wool secured to a trim bodice of fragile pink wool with dolman sleeves, rounded lapels and double collar. Buttons are pseudo-gems and belt is navy leather.

To Direct Show

Mrs. L. Parker, impressario of the famous Hill-Billy Shows who will direct "Cornzapoppin" for the Junior Woman's Club to raise funds for their clubhouse improvement fund. The show will be presented at the Woman's Club on Thursday and Friday nights, March 18 and 19. Tickets for the event are now on sale by members of the club.

'CORNZAPOPPIN' TO BE PRESENTED BY JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB NEXT THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Mrs. L. Parker arrived in town this week to help the Junior Woman's Club in their presentation of the Hill-Billy Home Talent Show "Cornzapoppin". "Cornzapoppin" is the WLS type of Hill Billy show and as it is set up to be put on by the Junior Woman's Club promises to be a screamingly funny show that should make the sides of the Woman's Club building shake with the laughter of the crowds when it is presented there next Thursday and Friday nights, March 18 and 19. Mrs. Parker was raised in the hills of the Ozarks and says that Kentucky is famous for its Hill Billies, but the Missouri is famous for "showin'" and that her showin' of "Cornzapoppin" is to be something it place a snapshot picture on the side of the jar put the name of the store where you would like to have the jar placed. Send this with your nice picture of your child to Marian Maxfield at 108 Third St. The jars will be placed in the various stores to solicit votes at one cent a vote. The votes will be counted and the ratings placed on a score sheet on the window. Russell Pitchford, president of the Cof C will be on hand on the last night of the show to crown the king and queen of Totland, the prince and princess and the duke and duchess. Phone Mrs. V. E. McAllister at 732 for further information. Cast of the show is headed by Mrs. Charlene Martin, who plays the part of Elviry Judkins, a cross, crabby, hilly billy housewife who rules her family and the community with an iron hand. Sue, her pretty daughter, Miss Mary Jeanne Linton, and Elmer, Ted Goodwin, her son, and her poor hen pecked husband, Neal Looney all come under her domination as does poor old Aunt Bessie. Aunt Bessie has lost her pet bear, Buster and her broken her glasses and Henry and Sue's boy friend Bob Sandrock, played by Eugene Pigue, play a trick on Aunt Bessie by doubling for Buster. Bobby Snow is also interested in Sue in his character of Squire Hicks, the towns lawyer and sheriff, but Miss Twitty played by Wilma Jean Harris has other ideas for the Squire and proceeds to make up to him in a manner followed by other leap year old maids. Linney Pearl, Miss Jean Holland, collects mountain tunes and rocks and it is in her collection of mountain tunes that the musical numbers of the show come. All signs point to a laugh riot showin' of "Cornzapoppin" on next Thursday and Friday nights at the Woman's Club. The Junior Woman's Club have earmarked the money that they make on the show to go for new, needed equipment for the club home.

COMMITTEE FOR KENTUCKY MAKES PLANS FOR IMPROVING EDUCATION PROGRAM

One of the most progressive organizations in the state is the Committee for Kentucky. We reprint here its educational program, which has the endorsement of Boswell B. Hodgkin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.—Eds.

1. Greatly Increased State Appropriations for Teachers Salaries.

The average salary of all Kentucky teachers was approximately $1,400 for the past school year and one of every three persons who taught in Kentucky that year was not legally qualified. This proposal is designed to secure qualified teachers of high caliber and devotion for the children of Kentucky.

2. A Fair and Equitable Assessment of Property Subject to Taxation.

At present property is assessed at from 10 and 120 per cent of its true value. The purpose of this proposal is to equalize the burden of taxation for educational and other governmental services.

3. A Minimum School Term of 9 Months for Every Kentucky Child.

The majority of the rural children of Kentucky had only an 8 month school term the past year. These children must compete with others who have had an opportunity to spend much more time in school. We cannot afford to discriminate against our rural children.

4. Authority for Members of State Educational Boards to Serve Out the Terms for Which They Are Appointed Unless Removed for Cause.

The accreditation of all state institutions of higher learning will be jeopardized unless this change is made in the law. This proposal will give security of tenure to board members and will greatly strengthen the administration of our state colleges and university.

5. Needed and Adequate State Appropriations for the State Department of Education and Institutions of Higher Learning.

This will guarantee better opportunities in the field of higher education—where enrollment is increasing—for our young people. According to the 1940 Federal census, five of every 100 persons in the U.S. and only 3 of every 100 persons in Kentucky was a college graduate.

6. Adequate Financial Support for Out-of-State Study and Amendment to Permit Out-of-State Study of Medicine, Dentistry and Nursing.

The purpose of this proposal is to guarantee as nearly as possible equal opportunities for professional training for all Kentucky youth and to supply our state with a greater number of professionally trained health personnel.

7. Provide for Improved Schools in Rural Areas.

Of 5,200 unqualified teachers in the state, 4,700 are in county districts; one-half are in one-room schools. Shorter school terms, lack of equipment, etc., all add to the low-standard of rural education in Kentucky.

Army potential leaders' school, Army technical schools, officer candidate school or the Military Academy at West Point are open to every Army enlisted man who has the mental and physical qualifications and who shows the makings of a leader. Try your luck now.

Palestine Homemakers Mourn Mrs. John Wade

Palestine Homemakers Club sustained a great loss recently in the passing of their friend and club member, Mrs. John Wade.

Mrs. Wade lived her entire life in the Palestine community where she, with her husband, reared a large family of children.

Since her husband's death her responsibilities have been heavy but being of a cheerful disposition and possessing a sense of humor she always looked on the bright side and never burdened her associates with her trials of life.

As a club member Mrs. Wade attended regularly as long as her health would permit and enjoyed the work and fellowship of the members.

Mrs. Wade will be greatly missed at the Palestine church where she was an active member and in the community where she lived and scattered sunshine among her many friends.

For the past several years, Mrs. Wade endured her suffering with patience and fortitude and retained the same cheerful attitude on the eve of her departure from this life.

Palestine Homemakers Club extends sympathy to her family.

U OF K ALUMNI
SETS UP $2800
SCHOLARSHIPS

High school seniors in every Kentucky county will have an opportunity to earn a $2,000 four-year, all-expense scholarship to the University of Kentucky next year.

The University Alumni Association has announced the establishment of the academic award, largest offered by the University, from money contributed to a Loyalty Fund campaign. Nominations are now being accepted and it is expected that the scholarship will be awarded before the opening of the 1948 Fall semester.

Candidates may become eligible for the scholarship only through the nomination of a bona-fide member of the U. K. Alumni Association or of an established alumni club, according to the Campus Alumni Association or of an established alumni club, according to the Campus Alumni Office. Nominations may come from outside of the state if they meet the qualifications.

The award will be made on the basis of high scholastic ability, character, personality, extra-curricular activities and need, alumni officials explained. The recipient must maintain a university academic average of 2.0, the equivalent of all "B" letter grades, or better. If the student falls below this average, the scholarship may be withdrawn.

The Loyalty Fund, directed by a committee headed by John R. Bullock, Cincinnati attorney and alumnus, has raised nearly $4,000 since initiation of a giving program last November. In addition to the present scholarship, and others that may be established in the future, the funds will be used to finance other alumni-sponsored charitable projects.

OSTHOFF, George H., 66, February 29. He was a retired railway express messenger.

Funeral services were held March 1 at the Paul Hornbeak Funeral Home with the Rev. Bob Covington officiating. Burial was in the Greenlea cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katie Burns Osthoff, and one sister who makes her home in Chicago.

SPRING is in the Air!

• And if spring isn't also in your step—if you don't feel like joining the birdie chorus in a chipper chirp—well, then, maybe you ought to see a Doctor. Let him look you over and put you in tune with the calendar. Of course, you'll be sharp enough to heed his experienced counsel. One thing he'll probably tell you is to bring his prescriptions to us! GORDON ENTERS CONGRESSIONAL RACE IN FIRST

Charles Elwood Gordon

Charles Elwood Gordon, Attorney of Benton, seeks the Democratic nomination for United States Representative in the August 7th Primary.

After graduating from high school at Aurora, Mr. Gordon janitored his way through Murray college, receiving his B.S. degree in 1933. During his college career he married Miss Bertha Knight, formerly of Christian county, and they now have five children, two boys and three girls.

Gordon served as County Court Clerk of Marshall county for eight years, being elected the first time in 1933, when he was only 21 years old.

During his adult life, he has lived in the counties of Calloway, Marshall, Ballard and Livingston, and has owned and operated farms in each of these counties.

He attended the University of Louisville School of Law, and Jefferson School of Law, and is a member of both the State and Federal Bar.

Mr. Gordon's statement to the people is as follows: After much thought and careful consideration I announce myself as a candidate to the office of Representative to the United States Congress. I feel that my college and legal education, together with my occupational and professional associations as a school teacher, county official, farmer, member of organized labor and lawyer, not only qualifies me to hold this office but also gives me a better understanding of the actual legislative problems confronting the people of this district.

In this Atomic Age, I am convinced that a strong national defense depends as much upon the education of all the people, as it does upon the training of the fighting personnel. I therefore favor federal aid to education, on a student per capita basis, for both public and private schools, so long as they are accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting association. I feel that it is our duty to give more consideration and better treatment to the veterans to whom we owe so much, including adjusted compensation and much needed housing legislation.

Our standard of life and national greatness in the future will to a great extent depend upon the then national resources. Therefore we must conserve our resources by continuing our soil building program and farm parity payments.

With regard to the Federal Tax structure, I believe a person who through the protection of government makes an enormous profit should pay a proportionately larger share of the expense of that Government. In line with this major premise I favor exempting from Federal Income tax the first $1000 net income of individuals together with an additional exemption of $600 for each dependant; and the taxing of excess profits to compensate for the resulting loss of revenue.

Space here will not permit discussion of the many other issues which I will take up with you from time to time as the campaign progresses. I, therefore trust you will consider your vote and influence solicited.

Respectfully Submitted,
CHARLES ELWOOD GORDON

Roundhouse Round-Up

By Alice Clark

A small boy or girl who never had a bunch of favorite uncles has missed about as much as one who never hung us his socks because the old folks told him there wasn't any Santa Claus. I used to have a couple uncles. There was Uncle Jim and Uncle Tom and both of them were my favorites. They were to me, set apart from all mankind and I wouldn't take a heap for all the many kindness they showed on me in my days of childhood. But they are both gone except for their precious memories which will live in my memory forever. The only uncle I have left is named "Sam" and I didn't mention him in the first category. Little did I think when in my youthful bloom that I would live to see the day when I would have to remit by check or post office money order a quarterly hunk out of my net income to this mysterious old gentleman that I learned about in the newspapers from his long tailed coat and striped trousers. I have never seen him in person and don't know exactly where he lives but I gather from the way I address my letters that does a lot of hanging out around the "Infernal" Revenue Department or the joint that gets my angora and my dough.

RUPTURE

Expert Coming To Mayfield Again
GEO. L. HOWE

Well-known expert, of Indianapolis, and ex-U.S. Army Medical Corpsman, will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Hall Hotel, Mayfield, Thursday, March 18th from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture, and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Howe Rupture Shield has no leg strap; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible, and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Do not overlook this opportunity if you want gratifying results. Mailing address P. O. Box 4233 E. Michigan St., Station, Indianapolis 1, Ind.

FATHER and SON

10-INCH SPEEDBOAT

Budget: Dad, $3.00 for motor—Son, 55c for materials

Dear Dad:

The hull is carved. The Super-mite motor is driven by one or two Eveready flashlight batteries.

First, lay out full-size patterns of the hull (Figures 1 and 2). The hull is built in three "lifts." The two upper lifts are to be cemented together to form the removable deck section. The lower lift forms the actual hull. Figure 3 shows how the lifts are assembled. Pin them together temporarily and carve the outside to shape. Figure 2 shows a typical section through the hull. After shaping the outside, separate the pieces and hollow out the upper and lower lifts. Cement the two lower lifts together and, when they are dry, hollow out No. 2 lift to conform with lift No. 3. Put in the motor block and the battery clips and fit the switch as shown in Figure 4. In making the connections, allow enough wire so that the deck portion can be raised to replace batteries. Put in the propeller shaft housing. This may be any piece of metal tubing of just the right size to allow an easy fit for the shaft. Make the propeller as shown in Figs. 4 and 5 and mount it on the shaft with cement. Hook up the propeller shaft to the motor shaft with a short length of plastic or rubber tubing.

Next cut out the fin and press it into the bottom just ahead of the step station. Later it can be cemented in place; but first sand down the entire hull with very fine sandpaper. Give the whole works a coat of sanding sealer (costs 10¢) and sand down again.

The paint job is up to the builder. Masking-out lines are indicated for two-tone deck paint; but this is not essential. Nor is the motor hood or canopy, also indicated; but this detail improves the appearance of the boat and seals it against water damage to the batteries. Check any tendency to turn off course by bending the fin as needed and let her go.

Sincerely yours,
Doug Rolfe

MOST MOTHERS DO THIS

If Baby Has A Cold

Best-known home remedy you can use to relieve distress of children's colds is comforting Vicks VapoRub. Even while you rub it on, VapoRub starts to work to ease distress... and it keeps on working during the night. No wonder most mothers always do this when a cold strikes.

EXCLUSIVE WATER DEFLECTOR TUB

The simplified sketch illustrates how the WATER DEFLECTOR TUB creates more turbulent water action. Shoots 1800 extra jets of water each minute through the clothes instead of just swishing around—cleans clothes thoroughly in less time with less wear. Eliminates tangling.

EXCLUSIVE DOUBLE-DUTY AGITATOR Removable plastic bowl is easily slipped on over the aluminum agitator. Gently washes small pieces such as handkerchiefs or dainties which are hard to find in the tub. Provides extra scrubbing action for clothes being washed at the same time in the large tub.

KENTUCKY FESCUE TO BE USED ALONG HIGHWAYS REPORTED

Kentucky 31 fescue, a native Kentucky grass first developed in Menifee county, is being tested for possible use in roadside planting along state highways, Highway Commissioner Garrett L. Withers said today.

"The use of Kentucky 31 fescue for roadside planting is attracting considerable attention in highway circles of Kentucky and other states," the commissioner said.

"Those who have had experience with the grass claim that its use for roadside planting will not only beautify the highways of the State but will actually reduce the cost of right-of-way maintenance.

"The grass has proved to be a vigorous grower and widely adapted to areas where Kentucky bluegrass is difficult to establish and maintain. Advantages of Kentucky 31 fescue for roadside planting are its east and rapidity with which it gets established; its deep root system its vigorous growth which tends to crowd out weeds, and its long life and ability to stay green practically throughout the year."

Kentucky now has about 50,000 acres planted in 31 fescue and last year produced over 1,000,000 pounds of seed.

SWAMP WATER

By David M. Porter

Kentucky, a state noted for its bourbon, for its colonels who appreciate and consume it and fortunate in the revenue that comes from it, may go dry. The wet forces in the state, alarmed by the number of counties (93) now dry and anxious to do something about it, carried their fight into this legislature and were successful. They passed a bill permitting counties that now vote under the unit plan, that is a county voting wet, the cities in that county are wet, but under the new law that they passed, a city may vote as a separate part of the county and while the county may be dry, the city of that county can be wet and sell beverages. This, in effect, will make it a wet county as the people from the county come into the cities to do their buying. The bill was carried through the House by a vote of 60-33 and through the Senate by a vote of 20-18 and became a law in ten days whether the Governor signs it or not. Immediately after the bill was passed the bill was introduced in the House for a vote on state-wide prohibition. I believe the bill was handled as diplomatically and astutely as any legislation that was ever put to the House or Senate. Before the dry forces could become organized, before they seemed to realize what was happening, the bill was passed and through parliamentary procedure. There was no chance for debate, only a chance to express the vote.

The revenue from the manufacture and sale of whisky amounts to about one third of the general fund monies and I believe from experience and observation that all the dry counties in Kentucky have bootlegging in them. I think that the elements of lawlessness and the underworld characters who take over when prohibition goes into effect should make us realize that prohibition cannot be successful. I believe that the dries should realize this and fight for proper legislation to restrict and limit the sale—perhaps through state-owned stores or possibly for medicinal purposes but definitely not have prohibition and the crime waves that go with it.

Never in history has the ideal of brotherhood been more essential. Our scientific progress during the past few years has been so great that it will require major effort to broaden our understanding of the necessity of enlarged appreciation of cultural and spiritual values. In

SHORT, SHORT STORIES

By The Staff

The Fulton Young Men's Business Club turned out its heavy eaters last Tuesday and descended on Crutchfield at 7:30 p. m. for a hearty chicken dinner served by the homemakers of that community at the schoolhouse.

Following the meal, some of the local folks led the group in a round of the old favorite songs.

A short business meeting was conducted by President Cliff Shields. The club has ordered additional trash receptacles for city streets and is working on a permanent war memorial-plaque honoring the dead of World War II, which will replace the temporary memorial board on Lake street.

Russell Pitchford, local banker and president of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, was relieved of his appendix last Saturday in an emergency trip to Haws Memorial hospital where he is resting comfortably. "Glad it happened when it did," he commented. "This is just between the hunting and the fishing season."

night, much to the chagrin of Hugh Fly and H. H. Moss, whose new ceiling in the smartly-styled and soon-to-open Smith's Cafe suffered from the overflow. We submit that the score is now even for the bad time that the West Hotel residents had one midnight last fall when the cafe caught fire.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. H. Eddie Farmer, Sr., a former resident of Weakley county, at her home near Merkle, Texas. Her son, H. E. Farmer, Jr., and his wife left Fulton recently to reside in Dallas; they will be remembered by local citizens as employees of the McDade Furniture Company here. Mrs. Farmer, Sr., was preceded in death by her husband, who was a nephew of Dick Farmer at Dukedom. Burial was at Merkle.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bethel and daughter, Zearle, have recently moved from Forestdale to their newly-purchased home on Central avenue. Their daughter, an operator at the local Southern Bell Telephone office, is confined with an attack of the flu.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 14, 1948.

The Golden Text is: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations." (Ps. 119:89, 90).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee." (Job: 22:21).

All are welcome to our services.

DEATHS

McKNIGHT, Mrs. Fannie, 67, mother of Max and Bob McKnight of Fulton died Saturday, February 28 at her home in Reno, Nev. after being ill for several months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday March 2 in Ripley, Tenn. Mrs. McKnight was formerly of there.

In addition to her two sons here, she leaves six other children, Mrs. John Patton of Chattanooga, Tenn., Mrs. J. A. Hart of Reno, Nev., Bernice McKnight of Bedford, Ind., Joe McKnight, of Reno, Nev., Charles McKnight of Cora, Calif., and Bill McKnight of Grenada, Miss.

BAILEY, Mrs. J. W., 73, at Jones office in Paducah was guest at the C.M.E. parsonage Tuesday night (Mar. 9).

Funeral services were held at Doublin Baptist church Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Tildon Garner and James G. Heisner officiating. She was buried by her husband in the church cemetery with W. W. Jones and Sons.

She leaves one son, John T. Bailey of Detroit, Mich., four daughters, Mrs. Auval Gunter, Clinton, Ky.; Mrs. H. G. Luther of Mayfield, Ky.; Mrs. Leland Jewell and Mrs. Clifton Hamlett both of Fulton; thirteen grand children, five great grand children, one sister, Mrs. John Hobbs of Arlington, Ky., and four brothers, W. H. Burgess, James Burgess, Casper Burgess and Gabe Burgess all of Barkley, Ky.
